Imagination Changes Appearance

Space is built on the basis of a kind of three- dimensional structure: each detail is carefully designed around behaviors and activities of people in the office space. A variety of configurations create different atmospheres and landscapes, which are not they are only suitable for individual work and collaborative, but also at meetings impromptu and short breaks in a more relaxing and domestic environment in a less institutionalized context.

Liftable Screen Work Spaces

Liftable tables and screen work stations combined at the first time, form a diversity into disciplined atmosphere, bringing a brand new change by two different configuration options: electric lift and manual lifting.

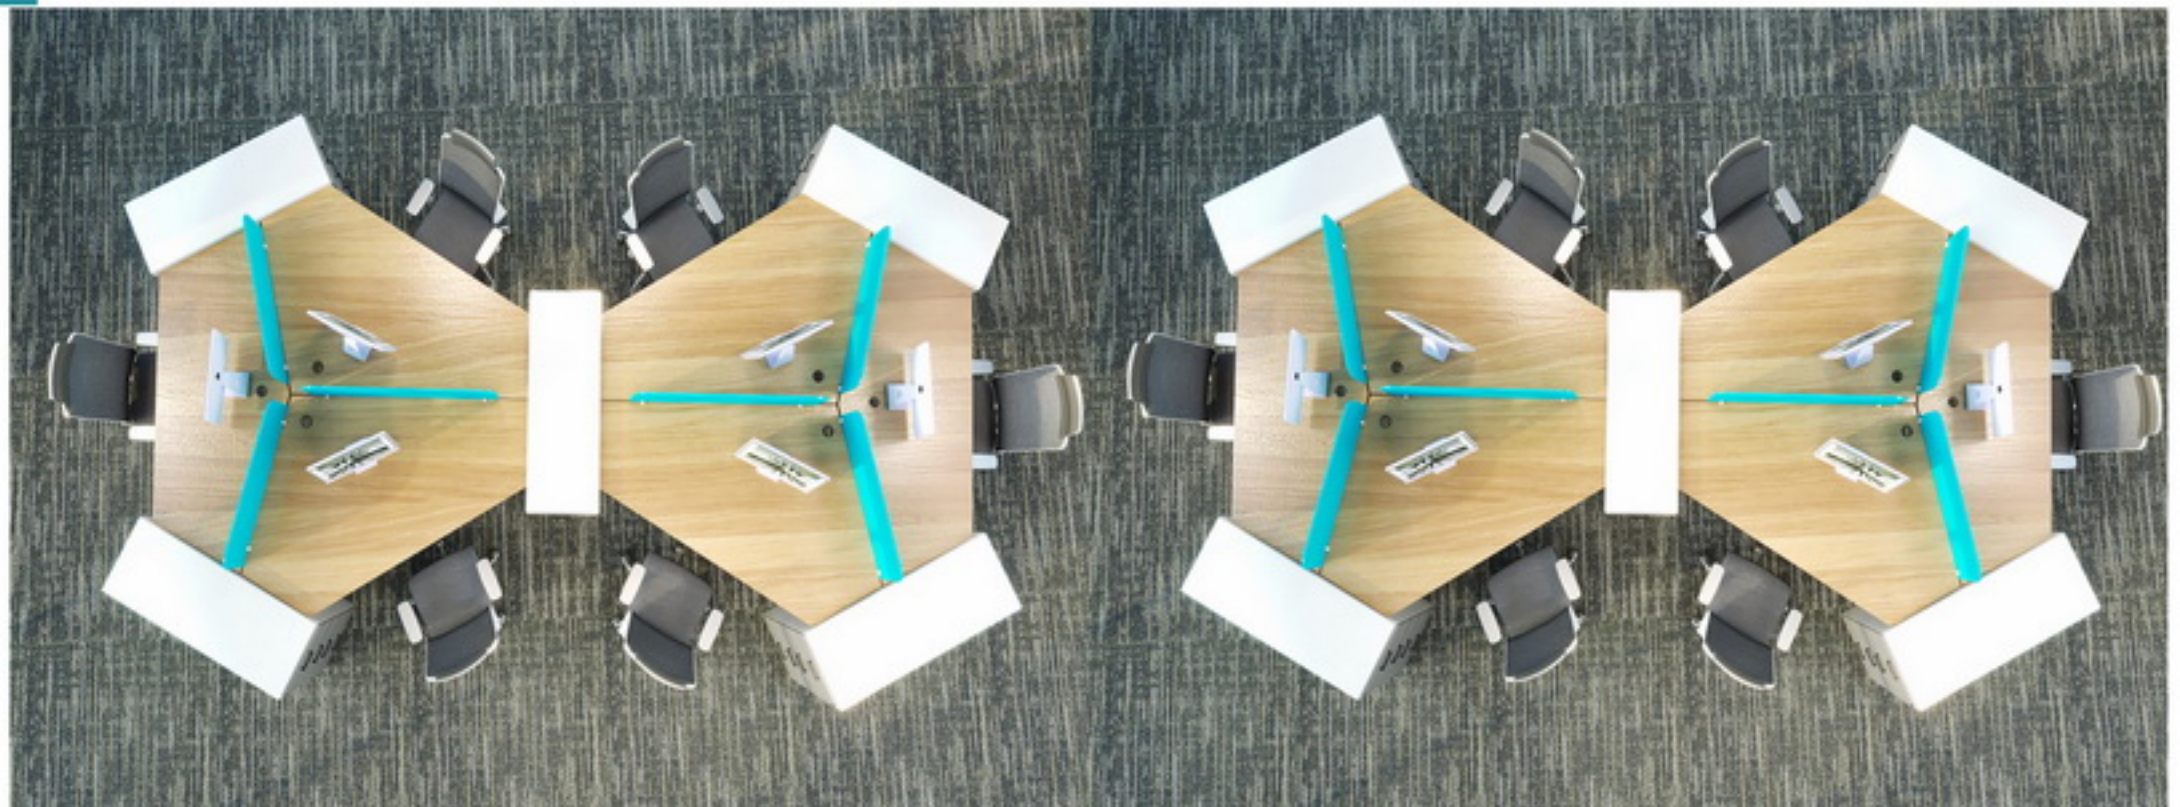

Strict Wiring Management

Scientific wiring management, to help organize complex wiring system, optimizing the isolation of strong and weak electric.
